When a 15 year old Japanese traveler witnesses the murder of a reporter he runs for his life only to be captured, have his memory erased, and given the ultimatum to join the secretive organization Inferno as one of their assassins, or die. Under the guidance of Ein, Inferno's top assassin whose earned the title of Phantom, newly named Zwei quickly becomes the number two assassin in the organization, but an internal power struggle puts both killers in harms way. What no one counted on was the partnering of Ein and Zwei (Ein and Zwei are German for One and Two) creating a rift in their programming. Ein, who has spent much of her life as a loner slowly grows confused over feelings that she has for Zwei now that their living undercover as a couple in a rented apartment. Unfortunately their feelings quickly become another strategic piece of the battle within Inferno causing their loyalties to sway ever so slightly putting themselves and one another on opposite sides of
