Honestly, you may find me at the 99x Mistle Toe Jam. I haven't the slightest who the hell American Bang are, but Switchfoots' new album, Hello Hurricane, is fantastic and Paper Tongues are a promising new band on the rise. Think The Police meets Anberlin with some attitude. If I can make it, I'll be there. Otherwise, there's some solid shows for everyone to check out. Relient K is always a winner (although it IS an acoustic show) and Usher should be humorous.

Check back next week when I cover the rest of Atlantas' concerts!
