

'Hunger Games,' Kristen Stewart Win Kids' Choice Awards

The kids have spoken.

Nickelodeon's 2013 Kids' Choice Awards saw Kristen Stewart walk away with two blimps, with a favorite movie actress win for The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 2 and a favorite female butt-kicker honor for Snow White and the Huntsman.

The Hunger Games took home favorite movie, and Wreck-It Ralph was crowned favorite animated movie. Selena Gomez, whose not-so kid friendly Spring Breakers opened in limited release over the weekend, won the favorite TV actress award for Wizards of Waverly Place. Johnny Depp was honored as favorite movie actor for his work in Dark Shadows.

Of course, no Kids' Choice Awards would be complete without a few stars getting covered in green slime. Sandra Bullock, Josh Hutcherson, Amanda Seyfried, and Neil Patrick Harris were among those who got covered in goo. Other stars participating in the ceremony included Steve Carell, Kristen Wiig, and LeBron James.

According to Nick, over 387 million votes were cast online from Feb. 14 and March 23 in 22 categories. It was the first year users could vote via Twitter.

The awards ceremony was held at the USC Galen Center in Los Angeles Saturday and was hosted by Josh Duhamel. Encore showings of the live broadcast will air Sunday at 12 p.m. and 9 p.m.
