

Ray Kinsella is an Iowa farmer that lives with his wife and daughter. When he starts hearing voices he thinks he is going crazy. It's when he starts listening and builds a baseball field in corn that everyone else thinks he is crazy. But as the voices give him new tasks everyone starts believing in magic.

I'm sure almost everyone has seen this movie and knows what a touching story it is. This two disc release contains tons of bonus features. There is the standard commentary, a making of, and deleted scenes. There is also a roundtable where Brent Saberhagen, Kevin Costner, and other major league players discuss baseball. Stadium trivia, a visit to the Field of Dreams that still exists and this DVD is a baseball fans dream.
